Case Processing Times

We are testing a new method to calculate processing times for Forms I-90, I-485, I-751, and N-400. With this method, we can post processing times that are more accurate, timely, and easier to understand.

What do the processing times mean?

We now show case processing times as a range. The first number is the time it takes to complete 50% of cases (the median). The second number is the time it takes to complete 93% of cases.

For non-pilot forms, we will continue to use our old method to calculate processing times, but will add an upper limit that is generally 130% of the processing time.

We calculate processing times by using historical data of completed cases. We cannot project how long it will take to complete a case filed today.

Where can I find my form number and the office that is processing my case?

Your receipt notice has key information you will need to determine your processing time.

- 1 Form Type or Case Type
- 2 Receipt Number
- 3 Receipt Date
- 4 USCIS Office

Note:

If the “USCIS Office” is the National Benefits Center (NBC) and you have filed an employment-based or family-based Form I-485, Form N-400, or Form N-600, you should check processing times for your local field office.

When can I ask about my case?

We have posted a Case Inquiry Date to show when you can inquire about your case. The Case Inquiry Date is the upper end of the range (converted to a date). If your receipt date is before the Case Inquiry Date, you can submit an “outside normal processing time” service request online or by calling 1-800-375-5283.
